LaGrange physician re-elected to ISMA leadership position

INDIANAPOLIS – Rhonda L. Sharp, MD, a board-certified family medicine practitioner in LaGrange, has been re-elected a delegate to the American Medical Association (AMA) by her colleagues in the Indiana State Medical Association (ISMA).

Dr. Sharp, a Howe resident, was re-elected during ISMA's annual convention, held Sept. 16-17 in Indianapolis. She practices with Parkview Physicians Group - Sharp Medical.

In addition to her work with the AMA delegation, Dr. Sharp is a past president of ISMA. She also served two terms as assistant treasurer of the organization and chaired the ISMA Family Violence Committee, as well as the ISMA Board of Trustees.

The Indiana State Medical Association is the largest physician organization in Indiana and is dedicated to promoting the well-being of doctors and their patients.
