Indianapolis-area physicians elected to leadership positions with state's largest physician organization

INDIANAPOLIS – The Indiana State Medical Association (ISMA), comprised of approximately 8,000 of the state's physicians, held its 162nd Annual Convention, Sept. 16-18 in Indianapolis.

Doctors from around the capital city were elected to various leadership positions during voting that occurred on the last day of the event. Some will now serve as key officers, and others are trustees and alternate trustees. The ISMA Board of Trustees represents the organization's 13 districts and component medical societies.

Those elected from the Indianapolis area include:

John Wernert, M.D., Speaker of the House of Delegates (ISMA's policy-making body)

Heidi Dunningway, M.D., Vice Speaker of the House of Delegates

Vicki Roe, M.D., Trustee, ISMA District 7 (Marion, Hendricks, Johnson and Morgan counties)

Drew Trobridge, M.D., Trustee, Young Physician Society

Ha Kirsten Do, M.D., Trustee, Resident and Fellow Society

Greg Martens, Trustee, Medical Student Society

Marc Duerden, M.D., Alternate Trustee, ISMA District 7 (Marion, Hendricks, Johnson and Morgan counties)

Marjorie Conant, M.D., Alternate Trustee, Resident and Fellow Society

Established in 1849, the ISMA works to promote sound health care policy in the public, private and governmental sectors and to support continuing medical education for the state's physicians.
